

Robot Fish

The Robot Fish can move its body in order to swim in a flow tank. It is used to help us understand how real fish can achieve different types of movement using their body and tail efficiently.